Laundry Love

This year as we embark on “Doing Lent Differently,” St. Paul’s will be joining three other Episcopal parishes from the Southwest Region in partnering with Open Door and Triangle Community Center to launch an initiative to assist the homeless in our greater community.

Laundry Love (laundrylove.org) is a program created and managed by churches throughout the country to aid our most desperate citizens.

The group will fund a regular laundry day on the first Wednesday of every month at Giant Laundry in East Norwalk. Volunteers from the churches and Triangle Community Center will pay for the washers and dryers that participants use as they do their own wash; while also hosting them in an inviting, supportive environment complete with refreshments and hope—hope that the money normally spent on laundry can be directed to other important uses such as healthcare, education, job training and food; hope that clean clothes can lead to dignity and a better self-image; and hope that lives will flower with the support of a caring, involved parish.

Look for the Laundry Detergent Containers in the Parish Hall to make your donation, and consider joining a team at the Laundromat. Volunteers will work in 2 hour shifts between 3 & 9 pm. For more information, or to volunteer, contact Marsha Dunn in the Parish Office.

Hunger: Sacred Conversations About Our Bodies

Tuesdays at 7:00PM

February 18 through March 27

Takes place right after our weekly 6:30PM Eucharist during Lent. Every Lent, we remember that Jesus was hungry. In Roxane Gay’s memoir Hunger, she explores her own hunger and the relationship between her hunger, her body, and the challenges her body endures. On Tuesdays this Lent, we will reflect on the stories she shares, as well as a variety of other material (both sacred and secular), in order to begin a more general discussion about bodies and hunger. Participants are encouraged, but not required, to read Hunger in advance of the sessions. A light dinner is served.

Adult Forum: God in the Arts Sundays at 10:15AM

February 18 through March 18

The spring Adult Forum calendar features a continuation of the 2017-2018 forum series, God in the Arts: Encountering the Sacred through the Gift of Imagination. Join us as we explore how spirituality and the arts intersect and inform one another.
